Play Philippines

One-Stop Action Destination

1-Angling
Acknowledgement

Promoting “Play Philippines” to the world requires a united effort and a dedicated service of all concerned citizens of this beautiful country.

This 2009 Philippine Index of Sports Tourism Sites and Destination will not materialize without the many articles, pictures, images, notes and insights of people and institutions used or borrowed for the purpose of selflessly projecting the Philippines to the world as a one-stop-action destination where sports from A to Z (Angling to Zip Lines) can be learned, experienced and played anywhere across the Philippines.

We deeply express our gratitude to all those whose work of art, books, publications and literature have been used to make this initial databank effort worthy of guiding those that seek information for the advancement of Philippine tourism and of our country’s tourism (business) industry.

This effort is made to praise God for the blessings of topography that He has endowed to this country.

Site/Facility Profile

If you happen to live in Valenzuela and want to try out something new, like angle fishing, there are two spots recommended for you.

The barangays of Coloong and Tagalag provide urban anglers a bevy of private ponds they can fish out different kinds of marine life. Most of the ponds serve as the backyards of the houses located in these two barangays.

Although most of the ponds are relatively small, the excitement you can get from fishing in this site can be a wonderful leisure.

So get up, gear to Valenzuela. You just don’t only relish in the sights of this fast-industrializing city in Metro Manila where warehouses and factories abound. You can also effectively release stress counting the number of fishes you could pack your buckets in a day.

The challenge and joy of snaring a good catch is addictive.

BALI HAI BEACH RESORT
La Union
Region 1 – Ilocos Region

Site/Facility Profile

Take time to spend a holiday, not to relish the charms of sunsets or the melodies of waves that gently break on the coastlines, but to feel the thrill of a good catch by the sea.

Set your gears for angle fishing -- for fun, training or adventure in an elegant resort located north of Bauang, La Union.

Bali Hai Resort is a stop-over that will keep you coming over more often!

So set off your fishing boats at full speed to a few miles offshore to explore the rich marine resources underneath. Remember to keep off the period of December and January to avoid gale force winds that may dampen your excitement.

Drop your line and take the strain with a loop around a bent knee, and slowly down as the weight of fish come on the line, haul in the line with your bare hands, and start dumping your catch into your styrofoam ice box, and keep on re-baiting and trolling.

A good catch would mean a sampling of Spanish mackerel, dorado, yellow fin, and marlin in your box. Not having a fish or two offshore must not make your fishing journey heartrending, because you have after all basked in the splendor of the seas.

If you have not been to the landing place of Gen. Douglas MacArthur when he returned to the country to liberate Luzon at the hands of the Japanese conquerors in 1945, it is time to set aside your work routines and spend a leisure trip to one of Lingayen’s best beach resorts.

You don’t just take pleasure strolling or jogging in the very fine sand and amid cool breeze of El Puerto Marina Beach Resort. Your kids will not only enjoy a carefree dip on the clean water of the sea with its gradual deep and soft touch of the waves.

More exciting is the leisure adventure that this site can offer you! Before the sun comes out, make sure you are in your best fishing get-ups along with your fishing gears because the awaiting resort boats will bring you to the stunningly-clear waters a few kilometer off the shorelines.

It’s where you get to love angle fishing!

Pagudpud boasts of a wealthy variety of marine life – a sight to behold for angle fishing fanatics.

If other fishing grounds in the Philippines are in danger of losing their rich mass of marine resources that include a variety of fishes, a fishing journey to Pagudpud will surely dawn on you that it is indeed a fishing site to behold.

What more? What a nice feeling to stand at its highest cliff and watch the fishing boats rushing towards the powdery-white sand coastline. From there, you could also view the wind mills of Bangui lining the horizon, and the stretch of white beach lined with tall coconut trees.

Pagudpud is a pristine town found at the tip of Ilocos Norte bounded by the town of Bangui in south, Cordillera mountain ranges, the town of Adams, and the province of Cagayan in the east, with the South China Sea in the west and north.

When in this island, will not its shimmering, cool breeze from South China Sea crack your inner desire for angle fishing, for fun and adventure? See for yourself.

Site/Facility Profile

Why not spend a weekend of angle fishing holiday in an unpretentious place in the town of Bolinao, called Ilog Malino, a site of century-old churches, historical landmarks and a multitude of natural wonders.

Found in this place is Puerto Del Sol, a resort ready to gratify your thirst for recreational fishing. “Bancas” (boats) steered by nice, warm fisher folks will lead you to where you can have the best thrill filling in your pail with your own catch.

Mark your holiday dates with your friends and family. Going to Bolinao, Pangasinan is easy. You may choose routes from Zambales or Tarlac to reach the destination. Those of you coming from Baguio - the country’s summer capital - can pass by Dagupan City to get to the resort.

Indeed, what a momentous fishing leisure mixed with “going back in time.”

PUNTA RIVIERA RESORT
Pangasinan
Region 1 – Ilocos Region

Site/Facility Profile

Stamped in a long 15-kilometer shoreline of Bolinao in Pangasinan where prominent rivers intersect, including one used for filming “Apocalypse Now” is the Punta Riviera Resort.

The resort, pinned on beaches that feature fringing reefs and rugged corals, offers a lot of interesting activities including fishing as its main attraction.

Fishing and fish farming are a common activity here as the coastline is rich in marine life. From Bolinao, it will only take about 20 minutes to reach the Santiago Island – the fishing town, where you can go boating and fishing, swimming and snorkeling.

After leaving with your hook and line, go paddling through the mangrove fringed Amazonian-like Ilog Malino Lagoon.

Looking for fishing grounds rich with milkfish (bangus) and big fishes like tuna and blue marlins?

Then set off to Sabangan Beach in Agno, Pangasinan.

Agno, also the home of Umbrella Rocks and Aloleng-bunga Beach, is just 28 kilometers away from Alaminos, where one of the country’s popular tourist destinations – the Hundred Islands National Park is also located.

It is known that milkfish thrive around coasts and islands with reefs. The bangus fry live at sea for two to three weeks and then migrate to mangrove swamps, estuaries, and sometimes lakes and return to the sea to mature. Usually, fries are raised in ponds where they grow very quickly and then sold fresh, frozen, canned, or smoked.

Pangasinan has been known to be very rich with milkfish. So take a trip to Agno for a shopping spree of cheap deboned milkfish or "boneless bangus" after a day of leisure angle fishing at Sabangan Beach.

From Manila, you travel 280 kilometers to reach Agno. The town is bounded by the South China Sea in the west, and the towns of Mabini in the east, Bani in the north and Burgos in the south.

TAMBOBONG BEACH
Pangasinan
Region 1 – Ilocos Region

Site/Facility Profile

You don’t need to be in Boracay’s beaches to savor white-sand coastline.

A beach somewhere in the province of Pangasinan offers more than the white-sand coastlines. But make sure, you don’t just pack your beach suits and glasses.

Bring your fish pot and spear, and smiley fisher folks at the Tambobong Beach will teach you some techniques in angle fishing.

About 288 kilometers away from Manila, and located 18 kilometers from the town proper of Dasol, the Tambobong Beach has been a favorite site for fish anglers and scuba divers.

With clear waters teeming with marine life, and still considered by many as pristine and virgin from the ravages of commercialism awaiting, how can you resist a fishing holiday in this part of Pangasinan?

WATER WORLD GRAND RESORT
Isabela
Region 2 – Cagayan Valley

Site/Facility Profile

Prepare for a grueling angle fishing match when you visit the Water World Grand Resort and Restaurant.

Located in Brgy. Raniag in Isabela, Water World Grand Resort and Restaurant offers a fishing area that has set a number of fishing competitions.

The battle ground is a man-made lake where guests are treated with a heart-pounding scenery underscored by the abundance of fishes around the lake. Aside from fishing, guests could also go boating in this awesome lake.

Located in the Cagayan Valley in Luzon, Isabela is the second largest province in the country next to Palawan. Its capital is Ilagan and borders, clockwise from the south, Aurora, Quirino, Nueva Vizcaya, Ifugao, Mountain Province, Kalinga, and Cagayan.

Though agriculture is the main livelihood of the province, fisheries is alive owing to the reservoir in Magat Dam. The reservoir of the Magat Dam is utilized for fish cage operations, such as tilapia production for domestic markets.

MONTEMAR BEACH RESORT
Bataan
Region 3 – Central Luzon

Site/Facility Profile

Nestled in 12-hectare cove situated between the hills of Bagac, Bataan and the pristine waters of the South China Sea, Montemayor Beach Resort is a fishing sight to behold.

It holds a rich marine life, thus ideal for angle fishing.

Located 154 kilometers from Manila, it is the only “AAA” resort in Bataan classified by the Department of Tourism. The resort boasts of an immaculate stretch of 500 meter white sand beach and has clean and calm water ideal also for swimming and other aqua sports/activities.

Bataan is one of the most famous provinces in the Philippines owing to its role in the charting of the country’s history especially during the World War II. Bataan’s Corregidor stood as the last stand of the Filipinos and American soldiers trying to resist the invading Japanese Imperial forces. Though it was overtaken in the end, Bataan remained one of the Filipinos’ symbols of freedom and bravery.

So come and have a getaway in a historical place while on a fishing expedition for recreation and fun at Montemayor Beach Resort.

No angler can resist the charm of an island that is gifted with the best dive sites, and a wide diversity of marine life.

In Busuanga Island, you don’t need to be a diver to be enthralled by its amazing marine resources. Anglers and bass fishing enthusiasts will definitely be overflowed with excitement, as well, knowing that underneath its waters are corals teeming with a variety of fishes.

Besides having several dive sites acclaimed among the best in the world, Busuanga Island in Palawan is also popular for having within the island a small fishing village called Coron.

The village has a historical significance serving one of Japanese ship docks during the World War II. On Sept. 24, 1944, the island, specifically this village, stood witness to the United States aerial bombardment of the Japanese cargo and support vessels seeking shelter in its turquoise waters. The site has now become a sanctuary for a variety of marine creatures that call these wrecks their home.

With your fishing rod, mark a holiday of action and adventure on Busuanga Island. An array of resorts offering fishing expedition for fun or to train you on angling tricks and techniques are the following, among others: Coral Bay Resort; El Nido Miniloc Island Resort; and El Rio Mar Beach.

GOTA BEACH AT CARAMOAN ISLAND
Camaries Sur
Region 5 – Bicol Region

Site/Facility Profile

Angle fishing enthusiasts will sure get a good catch once they visit the Gota Beach in Camarines Sur.

Gota actually refers to the small cove located at the northwest portion of Caramoan Island. It includes two narrow beaches separated by a small limestone hill along the coast but linked farther inland by a concrete pathway built along the edge of a mangrove area.

The beach east of the hill – that has an approximate area of 5,000 square meters – is known as the Gota east, while the beach west of the hill with an approximate area of 4,000 square meters is called the Gota west.

Both beaches are laced by a fine to medium, brownish gray sand of undetermined thickness which were derived from the erosion of the sandstones in Caramoan, an unexploited prominent for ocean adventures like kayaking, snorkeling and scuba diving.

BORACAY ISLANDS
Aklan
Region 6 – Western Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

Much has been said about Boracay, the country’s No. 1 tourist destination.

While its claim to fame has always been its fine, white sands and crystal clear waters, there’s another indomitable trait that this island paradise possesses.

And that is the island’s rich marine life, a treasure angle fishing enthusiasts are looking for.

There are two stories going around as the start of the island’s brush with fame. The first one tells that a foreign movie crew accidentally “discovered” this island paradise. The second one maintains that it was due to the book made by German Jen Peter, which included rave reviews of the island that changed the island’s pace from that of being a quiet secret to eventually being voted as having the best beach in the world.

Most resorts in this so-called island paradise include among its special action packages, angle fishing and boating trips to explore the majesty and natural beauty of its waters.

GUIMARAS STRAIT
Iloilo City
Region 6 – Western Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

Guimaras Strait is not called the “Fish Basket of Western Visayas” for nothing.

According to studies made by the BAR Chronicle in its April 1-30 issue in 2004, the province has a total fish production of a whopping 10,000 tons per year.

The marine life here is so rich that one can find a million kinds of fishes and other underwater creatures that include barracuda, cavalle, cuttlefish, dolphin fish, eel, flounders, flying fish, fusiliers, glassfish, goatfish, goby, grouper, and jacks. This fishing area is also flourishing with jelly fish, lizard fish, marine turtles, milkfish, mojarra, moonfish, moray, mullets, mussels, octopus, oysters, perchlet, scads, scallops, sea bass, sea catfish, sea cucumber, sea perches, sea urchins, seaweeds and other aquatic plants, shads, sickle fish, siganids, sillago, slipmouth, snapper, spade fish, sponges, squids, surgeon fish, threadfish, and wrasses.

The fishes in this area are caught with the use of the following fishing gears: bagnet, trawl, long line, beach seine, Danish seine, ring net, troll line, lift net, push net, filter net, fish pot and spear.

In spite of the setbacks in 2006 caused by the oil spill from the sunken oil tanker M/T Solar, the Guimaras Strait remains a major fishing destination.

Pack your hook and line, fly to the west coast of Negros, and experience the extraordinary angling thrill that only Guimaras Strait can offer you. It would be a trip worth it, because you are into a 2,072.54 square kilometer fishing site that has an average depth of about 18.29 meters and a muddy bottom. With this, you’ll surely have a good catch!

GUIMARAS ISLAND
Guimaras Province
Region 6 – Western Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

In an idyllic place teeming with fresh fishes, shellfishes and lobsters, angle fishing enthusiasts will surely have a great time.

This place, located southwest of Panay Island and northwest of Negros Island, is not only known for its rich marine life but also for its sweet mangoes which are exported abroad.

It has a tropical climate with dry season during the months of November to April and rainy or wet season from May to October. Its original name was Himal-us but was changed to Guimaras after the folktale of the lovers named princess Guima and the slave Aras, who defied tradition in their romance.

Guimaras Island is the youngest and smallest of the six component provinces of the Western Visayas Region. The province is composed of five municipalities, namely: Jordan, the provincial capital; Buenavista; Nueva Valencia; and the newly created Sibunag and San Lorenzo. It occupies about 3% of the region’s total land area. It has also been proclaimed as the “island to watch” due to unspoiled natural beauty as for its potential.

SIPALAY BEACHES
Negros Occidental
Region 6 – Western Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

Looking for an endless fishing escapade?

A visit to the four beaches of Sipalay in Negros Occidental will end your search.

Journey to the seas with your hook and line and explore the multitudes of fishes in the driftwood village, Punta Bulata White Beach, the Langub beach resort and the Bermuda beach resort.

Sipalay got its name from the old native phrase ‘sipalay’ meaning ‘there is rice’. Chinese traders, who were not able to pronounce the ‘r’ in the local word paray are believed to have helped disseminate the name sipalay as rice abundantly grow in the area and freely traded.

PANGLAO ISLAND
Bohol
Region 7 – Central Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

There’s a reason why this island is considered one of the best destinations that can give you a thrilling fishing adventure.

Consistently listed as one of the top ten diving spots in the world, Panglao Island in Bohol boasts of its underwater treasures teeming with life.

Famous for its Chocolate Hills and the second smallest primate in the world, the Philippine tarsier, Bohol has also etched its name as a home of the country's finest beaches and resorts nurturing a diverse marine life in its pristine waters.

One of these beach resorts lies at the heart of Alona strip. An Asian-styled resort with a magnificently-landscaped garden, the Alona Tropical Beach Resort offers fishing for fun and recreation.

Another resort that offers fishing for leisure is the famous Bohol Beach Club Hotel. This is surrounded by the natural grandeur of the stretch of white sand lining the cerulean waters.

So, how can you resist the excitement of bass fishing, and some side tours on land to the well-loved Loboc River, Chocolate Hills, Bacalylon Church and Hinagdanan Caves.

BILIRAN, MARIPipi
AND HIGATANGAN ISLANDS
Biliran
Region 8 – Eastern Visayas

Site/Facility Profile

Biliran Island: The country’s fourth smallest province nestled between Samar and Leyte islands.

An island paradise awaiting discovery: It’s setting as serene as its surrounding seas; its naturally-beautiful landscape as majestic as its underwater treasures; its people’s warmth and simplicity as natural and unpretentious as its virgin forests and marine resources.

Biliran Island: An action paradise in the making!

An island cuddled by Biliran Strait, Carigara Bay, Samar Sea and Visayan Sea, it features mountainous interiors with narrow coastal areas. The seas enfolding this island paradise keep aquatic jewels awaiting moments to shine. Behind these powdery shores are breaks awaiting full action.

The beaches surrounding the province’s three major islands, such as Biliran, Maripipi and Higatangan, are great opportunities for angling.

Whether you wish to go fishing for fun and adventure, or to challenge each others’ knack for baiting and boating, these three islands have wonderful places for you:

The Agta Beach has white sand stretching from both sides of a cove with lovely Dalutan and Kapiñahan Island in the horizon; Banderahan Beach has white sand with mangrove and nipa palms blending in its landscape; and, Dalutan Island has a small stretch of white sandy beach and boulders, laced with shady coco and ipil-ipil trees all over.
Sambawan beach is known for its coral gardens, that at high tides, this island is transformed into three beautiful islets; Maripipi Island boasts of coral gardens and scenic coco-lined beaches; Higatangan beach flaunts a moving sand bar extending about 200 meters to the sea and is studded with gigantic clam shells measuring up to a meter wide. It has several white sand beaches sprinkled with exotic shells newly washed up from the seabed and wonderful exotic rock formations;

Cogon Beach has been a favorite for spear fishing; Ginuroan Beach has coral gardens teeming with fish and marine life, an ideal site for spear fishing, as well. Tingkasan beach has a cave that is a natural habitat for bats.

With all the cited line of extraordinary beaches, this is a destination for a grand escape to take a breather!

Go fishing in Dakak’s pristine cerulean waters! Its waters are more than just a diving site.

Blessed with diverse marine life, Dakak beach resort has become, to many, the diving Mecca in Mindanao. Once you have tried being here, it would be hard for you to go somewhere else.

Dakak is not just about Zamboanga del Norte’s foremost natural attraction. It is known for its magnificently-shaped cove and powdery white sand blanketing the beach. It also boasts of pristine blue waters and excellent dive sites with an abundance of coral reefs. Waters of the resort’s two pools are fed by natural spring water and tumbling waterfalls. You could also enjoy exotic Filipino and continental dishes before live cultural performances.

And of course, being the Mecca, the resort’s aqua sports centre promises water sports enthusiasts the ultimate boating and fishing experience as you explore Dakak’s many nearby coral reefs.

Another marquee spot for fishing is the unspoiled Samal Island in the Davao region.

A short boat ride from Davao City, Samal Island houses many beach resorts from where angle fishing enthusiasts can enjoy doing their favorite activity.

One of the more prominent resorts is the Pearl Farm. The 11-hectare resort was once a real pearl farm that cultivated oysters imported from the Sulu Sea, and produced some of the best pearls in the country.

Davao region is known to be a major producer of gold and mining resources, including silica, silver and copper. The region, composed of four provinces – Davao del Norte, Davao del Sur, Davao Oriental and Davao – boasts of Mt. Apo, the highest peak (10,311 feet) in the country. Davao stands out as it is considered the largest city in Asia in terms of land area – occupying more than 244,000 hectares.

Aside from fishing, other activities offered in this resort include: diving, boating, snorkeling and sailing.

SARANGANI BAY
Sarangani
Region 12 – SOCCSKSARGEN

Site/Facility Profile

Sarangani Bay deserves a place in the country’s top list of water areas with rich marine life.

The Bay serves as the main source of livelihood for the fisher folks living nearby. In the months of June and July, large squid come in by the hundreds to lay eggs on the stag horn corals, home to a wide variety of fishes and other sea creatures.

The warm, clear waters and tropical setting in the bay is a haven for an impressive array of marine life, including whales, sea turtles, colorful reef fish and dugongs.

Dolphins and large congregations of shrimpfish are a common sight. Manta rays, eagle rays, barracuda, marlin and tuna are also abundant.

The Bay is also a popular scuba diving and snorkeling site as it is abound with shipwrecks submerged way back to the Spanish era.

PANSUKIAN TROPICAL BEACH RESORT
Surigao Del Norte
Region 13 – CARAGA

Site/Facility Profile

Whale sharks in Siargao Island.

If that sounds thrilling, then ready yourself for a trip to Pansukian Tropical Beach Resort, a place where the great fish has been spotted a number of times.

And be ready to go deep fishing, as well.

Pansukian Tropical Beach Resort is an elegant base from where you can explore pristine and almost-undiscovered islands. There are a lot of activities that can be done here including surfing, scuba diving, deep sea fishing and shell collecting.

Located on the eastern shoreline of the Philippines, Siargao Island is a teardrop-shaped island unspoiled by commercialism. The island has a total land area of 30 km. x 25 km, and is composed of seven municipalities, namely Burgos, Dapa, Del Carmen, General Luna, San Benito, San Isidro, and Santa Monica.

There is a wide range of wildlife here where the Philippine macaque and the green turtle are found.

SAGANA RESORT CLOUD 9
Surigao Del Norte
Region 13 – CARAGA

Site/Facility Profile

While it is prominent for its big waves, Sagana Resort Cloud 9 in Siargao Island is also a haven for angle fishing fanatics.

Thus, Sagana Resort regularly actually organizes fishing and inter-island expeditions for guests. This has been its regular activity.

So bring your gears and try your luck catching sailfish, wahoo, dorado and tuna. And if you want to savor the taste of your catch – literally eat your caught fishes – the resort can cook them for you.

Aside from fishing and surfing, other activities that can be done here include boating, sailing, diving and snorkeling.
